MARE BREEDING SOUNDNESS REPORT

MARE'S Name: _____

STALLION'S Name: _____

VETERINARY EXAM required to be submitted before any semen is shipped.

PHYSICAL EXAMINATION TO BE COMPLETED BY A LICENSED VETERINARIAN:

Basic conformation should be considered to determine if the mare is sound enough to withstand the act of breeding and that she will not pass on any severe conformational abnormalities. Pelvic injuries or abnormalities may pose foaling problems. Teeth should be examined to detect over/undershot jaws. The Mare Owner should strongly consider not breeding mares with these conditions.

Please review breeding history and note any conformational abnormalities:

RECTAL AND /OR VAGINAL EXAMINATION:

(If mare is in foal, please examine the mare AFTER foaling. This form must be submitted before any semen will be shipped and it is preferred to have it accompany contract.)

I have examined the mare, while she is in estrus, and found her to be in sound breeding condition. There is no indication that she would be unable to conceive or carry a foal to term.
